

Forter Castle

This castle was originally built by the Ogilvy's of Airlie as a fortified house or 'Fortalice' in 1560 and now this luxury castle is available for hire as a complete entity. Visit in the winter and the ground will be cloaked in a bed of snow – in the spring, the grass will be thick and laced with spring flowers. The castle fell but has since been painstakingly restored to its former glory from 1988 to the present day where all creature comforts have been added in. Bring your friends, family and lover – it will happily accommodate 16 and there's no risk of stepping on one another's toes. Your mother can take afternoon tea in the Great Hall whilst your younger cousin gets lost in the stone spiral staircase before all uniting for a spellbinding supper in one of the great rooms.

Fortercastle.com

CREDIT: JAMES RISDON